Two Armed Women, Man Escape Scene

Three armed robbers held up the Safeway store at Alemany boulevard and San Jose avenue near here Wednesday night, escaping with an undisclosed amount from the safe and cash registers.

Store Manager Harry M. Campbell reported the trio, two women and a man, each carrying an automatic pistol, entered the store about 6:20 p.m.

They selected a shopping cart and pretended to be making purchases.

Campbell said he became suspicious because both women were wearing dark glasses. He edged up to the wall telephone and started to place a call to police.

The man saw him, drew a pistol and pressed it to Campbell's stomach, saying:

"That's enough of that. Now get over there and open that safe.

The two women looted the cash in the registers while the man bandit watched Campbell open the wall safe.

The man then ripped the telephone off the wall. While he was occupied, Campbell ran out the back door and called police from an adjacent tavern.

The bandits shoved Nancy Schuler, a clerk, and eight customers into a rear room, then escaped in a two-tone sedan.

A car of this description was sighted on Stanley drive near Lake Merced a few minutes later, traveling at high speed with its lights off.

In keeping with Safeway policy, exact amount of the robbery was not given.

The man bandit was described at 20 to 28 years old, blond and wearing a tan trench coat.

Both women were dark haired and both wore dark slacks, jackets and sun glasses. One was tall and slender; the other was of medium height. Both were 20 to 25 years old.

Building Here For Past Year Hits Near-Record High

Building in Daly City for 1952 was the highest on record, with the exception of 1950, with new projects totalling $6,877,808.

This is the second highest year for building on record, the 1950 figure reaching $7,901,970.

A total of 746 building permits were taken out in '52, which also ranks second only to the number taken out in '50, which was 779.

Last year's building outdistanced that for 1951 by nearly $3,000,000. Building Inspector

Record Draft Call Scheduled Here For January 28

A record number of nine 1-A youths will be taken from Daly City in the next draft call, Jan. 28, according to Virginia Anderson, coordinator of the county selective service boards 57 and 58.

Mrs. Anderson said a total of 47 men would be taken from the north county area, which comes under board 57. This will be the largest number called since the beginning of the Korean war.

The increased call for the county is in keeping with the record national call for January of 49,000.

The coordinator said that no definite figures could be given for Daly City's call during January, but estimated that it would be about nine.

Only 1-A men who have already passed their preliminary physicals will be taken, Mrs. Anderson said.

She explained that the local boards have followed the possibility of deferring all college students who are carrying the normal academic load and who are in the upper-half of their class, or who passed the college qualification test.

Mrs. Anderson estimated that February's local call would again establish new records. She said the national draft will be 54,000, 5000 over this month's.

Cause for the stepped up demand for men, Mrs. Anderson said, is the large number of service personnel now being discharged. She explained that many of those in the original draft have now served their time and replacements must be brought in as rapidly as possible.

Council, Rec Group Meet On Fee Issue

Fees and rentals for the community center came up for discussion last week at a meeting between members of the recreation commission and the city council.

This meeting marked the first time that the council has met with the commission to outline future policy for the uncompleted building.

Present from the council were Joe Verducci and Edward Dennis. Others present were: James Mason, recreation director; George Pingry, chairman of the commission; and Dan Andersen, city administrator.

The nucleus group decided that no fees or rentals would be charged any of the scout groups, including the cubs and brownies.

CALLAN ATTENDS FIRST MEETING OF SUPERVISORS

Says Initial Session Indicates Cooperation

Supervisor Thomas Callan held his inaugural meeting with the county board Tuesday and was of the opinion that he and other members had "lined up fine."

At his initial session Callan was appointed to the north county sanitation district, the Junipero Serra highway commission, District 10, and to the county planning commission.

Callan got the bulk of appointments made that day.

The new supervisor said he would "work 100 per cent with the board to get something for the first district."

Callan told THE RECORD he would strive to obtain a piece of ground in this area for recreation purposes in the north end of the county. He said that he would seek to have the county obtain 25 or 30 acres where baseball, volleyball, badminton and many other types of recreation could be held.

He said such a park was "sadly needed" here.

Callan declared he would also work to make more equitable the tax assessments in this area. He asked that any persons honestly believing their assesments unfair to contact him by mail, 200 Washington street, Colma. Callan stated he would see the proper authorities and strive to obtain a fair assessment.

Callan asked that a request from San Bruno's city council asking Judge Thomas Bocci to sit in that city when necessary be laid over for two weeks.

Daly City Bride Is Kidnapped Near L.A.

A young Daly City bride, Mrs. Walter Lynch, was kidnapped last week in Highland Park near Los Angeles and beaten by her two abductors who attempted to criminally molest her.

The 19-year-old girl, who lives here at 384 Winchester street, told police that she and her husband, who were returning here, had accepted rides with the two men.

Mrs. Lynch said her husband noticed the motorists had been drinking and he asked to be let out of the car with his wife.

When her husband started to leave the vehicle, the two men pushed him out, slammed the door and drove off with Mrs. Lynch still in the back seat.

She was beaten about the face when she refused the men's advances, she told police. Then she was released at the roadside.

Police Commissioner Says Staff Here Is Undermanned

DESMOND, FRATES RESIGN FROM WESTLAKE BOARD AT MONDAY NIGHT MEETING

A. L. Desmond, president of the Westlake Improvement association, resigned his position and walked out of the regular meeting of the board of directors Monday night.

Named to the post by voters of the association only a month ago, Desmond said his action was taken when "it became apparent that an alignment had been formed to harass, hinder and thwart" his program for 1953.

Desmond's resignation was accompanied by that of Linwood Frates, secretary, who said "sitting on a board with the present type of reasoning is a waste of time."

"Rather than endure the petty type of wrangling I have stepped down," Desmond said.

"Waste Time"

At the outset of Monday's meeting, the board, instead of getting down to important business, voted a salary increase of $35 to the male stenographer employed by the board, Desmond declared.

The stenographer was previously getting $65 a month.

Economy Policy

Desmond said he didn't mean that the employee didn't earn the $100, but pointed out that he, as president, had intended to pursue a policy of economy for the association.

The former president said he didn't know if his comments on the possible annexation of Westlake by San Francisco had had anything to do with the upheaval.

Desmond had made public statements that the people of Westlake might be in favor of the annexation plan, but clarified the point by saying that it was difficult to speak for the property owners as a whole.

Similar Rift

Similar confliction within the board's ranks took place in '52, Desmond said, explaining that president George Pingry had threatened to resign twice last year. "The same parties" caused the rift then, according to Desmond.

Desmond said he was "through with the association" although he would still be glad to work for worthwhile projects.

He said the property owners have consistently asked, "What is the association doing?" According to Desmond, the association is doing nothing now. "It's just a lot of hot air and baloney," he said.

Recently elected vice president, Joseph Toboni, will probably take over duties as president.

Desmond said he wished to thank all those who voted him into office, and said it was with regreat that he left his position.

Situation Same On Brunswick Street

"The Brunswick street situation remains at the status quo," City Administrator Dan Andersen said this week.

The council met Monday night to discuss the completion of the Brunswick extension, which members of the council wish to bring about as soon as possible.

A little more than a week ago the brick restraining wall toppled over on Brunswick, and with it fell half of a storage house located on top of the wall.

Robert Klassen, engineer for the job, was to have been present and

COMMISSION RECOMMENDS ADDING FOUR MORE MEN TO DEPARTMENT

The Daly City police department is "so undermanned it cannot be run efficiently."

This was the statement made yesterday by Tony Ricci, member of the police commission.

Ricci said the commission met Tuesday night and decided to make an inquiry into the delay in furnishing the force with more men.

The commission recommended to the council nearly a month ago, on request of the police department, that four more men be added to the staff, Ricci said.

They also suggested that an additional motorcycle be acquired by the department.

Ricci said members of the commission asked him to contact Dan Andersen, city administrator, to determine why the council had taken no action on the matter.

Ricci stated the commission has submitted letters recommending additional men on two different occasions.

Police Chief Roland Petrocchi has made a plea for additional men on and off for three months, Ricci added.

"Daly City is just fortunate that no real problems have arisen," Ricci said. "The force wouldn't be large enough to handle any large-scale crime wave or a catastrophe," he added.

Ricci said the present "drastically undermanned" force should be augmented to provide better protection for the city.

He mentioned Junipero Serra boulevard and the influx of people into the Westlake area as two of the more urgent problems necessitating a larger force.

May Set Date For Sewage Bond Vote At Monday Meeting

Discussion of a date for a $575,000 sewage bond election will be held at Monday's 2 p.m. meeting of directors.

Definite plans for the election date may be set if Ernie Wilson, attorney for the district, is present at the gathering in the council chambers, according to James Kennedy, secretary.

"I don't konw if there are any legal obstacles," Kennedy said, "but it's possible that the election may be held in March."

Balloting will be held to secure funds for construction of a primary type treatment sewage plan to be located near Lake Merced and Alemany boulevards.

The board of directors will also consider the report from district engineer Harry Jenks at the Monday meeting. Jenks' report on the sewage plant must be approved by the board before plans for the election can be laid.

Kennedy said Thomas Callan, supervisor from this district, may also be present at the meeting.

DALY CITY MAN PLEADS GUILTY TO EMBEZZLEMENT

A 33-year-old Daly City father pleaded guilty in San Francisco federal district court last week to the first of six counts involving charges of embezzlement of $1000 in bank funds.

John J. Hogan, 1124 Harrison street, now a taxi-driver, admitted guilt on charges that he made a $100 false entry in his own commercial account at the Bank of America, Bayview branch, while working as a teller, and then withdrew that sum.

The one-time teller, father of two small children, asked Federal Judge George B. Harris to dismiss the other five counts through his attorney, Chester J. Keith. The request is scheduled to be acted on Wednesday.

Name New Officers For Westlake Board

At its regular meeting Monday night, Jan. 5, the Board of Directors of the Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association voted to reorganize itself.

The Board elected as its new President and Chairman, Joseph Toboni, No. Parkwood drive; as Vice President, the Board elected Howard A. Dunbar, 93 Fairway drive.

Upon the resignation from the Board of Directors of A. L. Desmond, 145 Wilshire avenue, and Linwood Frates, 248 Westbrook avenue, the Board elected Archie Lombardi, 44 Castlemont avenue, and Edward Molkenbuhr Jr., 296 Wilshire avenue, to fill these vacancies. Mr. Lombardi was elected Sergeant-at-Arms and Mr. Molkenbuhr Secretary. Wm. B. Ziegler, 26 Parwood drive, remained as Treasurer.

Final Decision On School Site Awaits Further Study By Planning Commission

Final decision on the application of the Jefferson elementary school district to establish a school site at Thiers and Lausanne street was set aside for further study by the planning commission at their meeting Monday night.

Chairman of the commission, Fred Bertetta, said that all the property owners in the area involved should be notified and a thorough study of the plans should be made.

He explained that construction of a school at the site might cut off some property owners' access to their homes.

Weibel Present

H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of the school district, was present and said that Robert Klassen, who drew up the plans, had taken all property owners into consideration in his specifications. Weibel also said that property owners concerned had been informed of the school project, and had expressed approval with it.

Weibel stressed the urgency of speeding up the school project, pointing out that it would take pressure off the Woodrow Wilson school and make transportation of children from downtown areas unnecessary.

Special Meeting

Bertetta said the commission would hold a special meeting, if necessary, to insure immediate action on the plans.

The commission approved application of Dale G. Stuart to re-zone property at the end of Bepler street from R-1 to R-3 classification. With this action, pending council approval, apartment houses may now be constructed on the property. Stuart plans to build two-story flats on Bepler street. Sanford Vickers, secretary of the commission, said the re-zoning was a good thing, indicating there was a great need here for apartment-house dwelling near adequate transportation. No objections, oral or written, were made against the re-zoning during the hearing.

Auto Court

Application from Col. Richard H. Bridgman to establish an auto court on Skyline boulevard was approved with reservations. Bridgman, who owns a stable which will be adjacent to the planned motel, was asked to acquaint himself with Ordinances 6 and 7 which outlaw keeping of animals within the city limits.

The commission said it may be necessary to do away with the stable on completion of the auto court, since the city has tentative plans for annexing the area on which Bridgman's stable is located.

A. Antonchuk's proposal to resubdivide lots 40-49, excluding lot 46, in Bella Vista terrace, was rejected. The commission said that 2500 feet is the standard lot size, whereas Antonchuk's plots were far below this minimum.

Judge Sweeney Ends Term on Bench Here

After hearing some 1,980 criminal cases and handling over 100,000 traffic violations the career of William J. Sweeney, city judge, officially came to a close Monday at 12:01 a.m.

The 67-year-old judge served here 11 years and during that period held the respect not only of members of the legal clan, but even those who had justice meted out to them at his hands.

Only One Appeal

The incident, as he recalls it, was a case of disturbing the peace. He found the defendant guilty and fined her $50. This sum had been put up earlier by the defendant's attorney, who had posted the money as bail, or so he thought.

As it turned out, the attorney thought this money would be returned, as it was to have been part of his fee.

Sweeney will be feted Jan. 29 at Lake Merced Golf club at a testimonial dinner in his honor.

The function will begin at 7:30 p.m. with Mayor Anthony Gaggero acting as toastmaster.

Tickets to the affair are $5 apiece. Ladies will be welcomed to the dinner.

Number of tickets to be sold has been limited to 200. They are on sale now at the city hall.

That, Sweeney said, was the crux of the appeal, which later was upheld.

One week later, however, the same lady was back in court on the same charge. This time Sweeney again found her guilty, fined her $100 and the verdict stuck.

Last Was Longest

Ironically enough, the longest case ever heard by Sweeney lasted right up until Friday. His last act as judge was to grant a continuance of a proceedings, which will be turned over to municipal judge Thomas L. Bocci Jr. The case first went to court Monday of last week and was carried out over four hours, continued again to Tuesday for another four-hour session, then delayed again until Friday. Attorney for the defendant, charged with molesting a child, asked for another continuance, and with the granting of the attorney's request the curtain came down on the career of William Sweeney as judge.

Tribute to his service will be paid at a tetimonial dinner to be held Jan. 29 at Lake Merced Golf club.

During that long and honorable career, one decision stands out in Sweeney's mind most prominently. It was during the war years, when gas was rationed.

But, Your Honor

A gentleman had been nabbed for running an arterial stop here and consequently was appearing before the Judge. Asked by the judge if he wished to plead guilty, the law violator answered: "—— ——, Judge, I only have four gas coupons. If I stop for all the signs I just have to use that much more gas."

The judge, awed by the splendor of the man's unique alibi, found him "not guilty" and told him to keep going.

Sweeney's earliest contact with the legal profession in 1904 was one that lead him to make the comment at that time, "I want nothing to do with lawyers."

An Errand Boy

During summer vacation from St. Ignatius school Sweeney worked three months as an errand boy in a law office—at a pittance of $12 a month, which was obviously the basis for his disgruntled attitude toward lawyers.

One of the few remaining bonafide pioneers of this area, Sweeney has made his home here more than 60 years, after moving from San Francisco, where he was born.

Sweeney commuted daily to school at St. Ignatius, located on Van Ness and Hayes in San Francisco. His means of transportation: a bicycle.

He attended the school, which ran from elementary through secondary education until 1905, a year before he was due to have been graduated.

His dropping out of school was occasioned by the death of his father, who was run over here by a street car.

Following his father's death his mother had to take over their blacksmith shop. The shop, incidentally, ran continuously from the same location at 6800 Mission street for 45 years and is now the William J. Sweeney & Sons Studebaker Co.

Blacksmiths Two

Sweeney and his mother operated the shop until the advent of the automobile. Changing with the tempo of the industrial age, the blacksmith shop became an auto repair shop and agency.

The Sweeney Studebaker Co. as it stands today is the result of the long transition from the horse and buggy to the horseless carriage, and all the innovations that annually accompanied the machine operating from the internal combustion engine.

Clerk Here 28 Years

Sweeney's public life has not been restricted to the judiciary side. For 28 years prior to the time he became judge here, he was clerk of the Jefferson elementary school board.

Although he is no longer judge, Sweeney describes his status as that of "semi-retirement." He is still active in his automobile business, and has ample outside interests to keep him on the go.

Golf ranks among his favorite avocations. He declines to state his average numerical effort for 18 holes, letting it rest with the comparison that he shoots a score "about equal to City Attorney Frank Blum or Councilman Paul Green."

Fishing and boating also consume a good deal of his time. He owns a home on Russian river at El Bonita, where he plans to sojourn even more now that his judicial duties are over.

Healthy As Any

For his 67 years, Sweeney is as healthy as any man a few decades younger. He ascribes this to his work as a blacksmith, which, he says, is about as strenuous labor as a man can do.

Plenty of outdoor life have also added to his robustness, and he hopes to maintain himself by a lot more of the same type of activity during his period of "semi-retirement."

Police Commission

Ricci said the commission meets again Tuesday night and hopes to have an answer to their request for increasing the size of the force.

George Hopman said building reached $4,087,398 in '51.

Last Year's sale of building permits brought a little more than $30,000 into the coffers of the city treasury.

Biggest month for building last year was January, with valuation for that period being $1,181,756. Building ebbed to its lowest in May with only $104,780 in new structures being recorded and 20 permits taken out, as compared with 154 for January of the same year. A sharp contrast was noted between building in May for '51 and '52. In '51 87 permits, totaling $1,070,138 in valuation, were taken out.

Breakdown for 1952's building showed 601 dewllings, 10 commercial structures and 27 apartments. Dwellings accounted for $5,647,030 of the year's total, or more than 80 per cent. Apartment building amounted to $913,142 of the total. Two new duplexes were valued at $20,000.

Hopman said that all trends indicate this year's building may even exceed that of 1952 and may break all previous records. Big factor in the building boom is the Vestlake development, he said.

Golden Gate Park in San Francisco contains more than 5000 different shrubs and plants.

LOCAL P.O. HAS NEAR RECORD VOLUME FOR '52

Daly City's post office had its second largest year on record during 1952, according to Maurice Murphy, San Francisco post office public relations director.

The main San Francisco branch, which includes Daly City, cancelled 530,996,700 pieces of mail in 1952 as compared with 515,880,500 the previous year.

This establishes an all-time record for peace-time, Murphy said. He explained that only the years during the Second World War saw the '52 figure exceeded.

Receipts for '52 came to $33,836,971, nearly $5,000,000 higher than the figure for '51. Murphy said the increase amounted to 16.96 per cent.

Normal personnel of 5000 was increased by 7000 during rush periods to bring the total number employed by the post office to 12,000.

The office handled 531,000,000 letters in addition to parcels and mail arriving here from other points.

Murphy said that no individual figures were available for the Daly City office, but added that the increase in population here would indicate the local office handled one of its largest volumes of mail on record.

Chamber of Commerce Elects Officers for '53

The Chamber's membership drive, headed by Robert Hunter, has netted the group a total of some 120 charter members.

The charter membership drive ended with the new year.

Council, Rec. Group Meet On Fee Issue

No definite plan of action was decided on, according to Mason, but use of the building was discussed at length.

It was agreed that the Daly City-Colma Lions would be allowed to use the building on Feb. 6 for their Youth Art exhibit.

The new project will include entries from all grade levels in public and parochial schools in the Jefferson Elementary school district. Both representatives of the council and the recreation commission lauded the idea as a "worthwhile event."

The topic of fees and rentals for the center will be gone into further at the next meeting of the recreation commission, Jan. 27, Mason said.

At present Mason is contacting various areas throughout the state to determine what prices are charged for fees and rentals in other auditoriums and centers.

Now—an invitation to everyone in Daly City who has never driven an English car!

From America's Newest Austin Dealer

CARDINAL MOTOR SALES

6565 Mission St., Daly City, Calif. PLaza 5-1245

Vince Bowman

IT'S A PLEASURE to invite you to come in and see the exciting new Austin. And once you drive it, you'll understand why so many intelligent Americans are buying this great car.

Briefly, the main reasons for its popularity are its brilliant engineering and economy.

The Austin Somerset DeLuxe sedan or convertible cruises at 65 m.p.h., delivers up to 35 miles per gallon and cuts your operating expenses as much as 50%!

$250 Worth of Extras

The low U.S. price tag* includes $250 worth of free extras: (i.e. special equipment for which you would normally expect to pay more). So the Austin is a very great bargain indeed.

Some of these extras include: leather upholstery, and foam rubber cushions, patented interior jacking that raises either side of the car completely, a first class heater and twin defroster, a long-lasting 12-volt battery, electric windshield wipers and illuminated turn signals.

What About Service?

You'll be pleased to know we have a compiete stock of Austin parts as well as highly skilled service men to keep your Austin in top condition. As a matter of fact, there are more than 85,000 Austins on the road...more than 1000 dealers in North America to service them, and the number is growing every day.

Safe, Roomy, Easy to Park

The Austin handles like a sports car, yet it is an unusually safe car to drive. It's a very stable car, beautifully sprung. Well mannered. And you'll be surprised to find how roomy it is. Space for five grownups in perfect comfort.

What's more, you can always find a place to park your Austin. And getting out of a crowded parking place is simpler, too. Altogether the Austin is probably the easiest car in the world to drive—as well as the most maneuverable.

On Display Today!

There's a lot more I could tell you about the Austin but nothing can equal a demonstration. So phone us or come in soon. We want you to get acquainted with America's most popular foreign car—the great new Austin. No obligation, of course.

Disastrous and Preposterous

Any annexation of San Mateo county by San Francisco would be disastrous to the school districts which presently incorporate portions of such areas proposed to be annexed, according to County School Superintendent James R. Tormey.

He has said that, in the even annexation was possible, the taking over of this county's property by San Francisco would automatically place the annexed areas within San Francisco's own school jurisdiction at all levels, elementary, high school and junior college.

Tormey said the effect of this would be withdrawal of the tax support of schools on a scale correspondingly wider than the area of the annexation.

According to Tormey, this would mean severance of assessable values within the annexed areas from the San Mateo county districts involved. This might mean, in the case of some districts, a large portion of their present funds.

But . . . at the same time, San Francisco would be immediately faced with the need for providing school facilities for pupils within the annexed areas.

Tormey said this would be highly serious in such heavily populated areas as Westlake and Broadmoor Village.

Danger of any such annexation, however, is practically nil, because of the special act which would call for approval of San Mateo county's voters before annexation could be carried. Keith Sorenson, deputy district attorney, has said that voters approval would be necessary whether the area involved was inhabited or not.

San Francisco's overtures toward annexing the uninhabited watershed area also seem futile. Action of the 1951 legislature banned any such "strip" annexations.

There is also doubt that provisions of the municipality act permitting annexation of uninhabited area could be exercised by a city outside its own county.

So it would appear, judging from the quiet evidenced on the northern area since the original annexation affront to this county, that San Francisco has come to realize the assininity of its proposal, and is preferring to let the matter die a natural death, rather than revive it and provide further embarassment for its instigators.

A Crisis That Can Be Controlled

Jefferson Elementary School district—and that means Daly City's children—are confronted with a crisis.

It's the same old problem of too many children in the district, not enough space.

At present there are 30 classrooms operating on double sessions, an enigma that means less time in school, and, consequently, less adequate education.

The state-aided building program has so far resulted in some $2,000,000 worth of new classroom space. When this phase of the building program is completed, by next fall, perhaps, there will be enough building space to handle the anticipated enrollment on single sessions.

But that's only next year. The following year, with population skyrocketing (601 new dwellings were built in 1952 and the figure will be higher next year according to predictions) another new bumper crop of children will be needing educational accomodations. And the year following, another new problem will erupt, ad infinitum—that is, unless the people of Daly City look to the future.

The vastly greater number of pupils in the lower grades must be accommodated as they pass up the stairs of learning. At present, to further point out the problem, there are 211 pupils in the eighth grade, 420 in the second grade, and 640 in the first grade. And the number who haven't reached school yet is probably astounding.

Based on present enrollments and estimated future enrolments, the district will need three times as many classrooms in 1959 as will be available next fall.

To further sharpen the problem, Doelger, Inc., is now building 2500 new homes here. It is evident that half-day session will again become necessary by the spring of 1954.

Children of the school district are faced with, perhaps, an entire education under double sessions, unless plans are made instantly.

School buildings require from one to three years for construction, from the time preliminary planning begins until they are ready for occupancy.

With these factors in mind, it is commendable and necessary that the board of trustees have set February 5 as election day here. This election, with voters sanction, will bond the district to its maximum capacity, thus enabling it to share in the $185,000,000 state school building fund. It will also provide for the district's bonding itself to the sum of $795,000. With this money, and a portion of the state aid, education's future here can be bright.

Without it, the future won't be bright, nor will the children who must suffer under inadequate education.

Something Too Long Neglected

If there is any singular part of municipal activity that should not be neglected as to size of staff, it is the police department.

And yet, in Daly City, economy seems to be the watchword when it comes to furnishing the department with adequate personnel.

This city is in the throes of an expansion which no other city in this county approaches.

And with that growth, comes a steadily rising population, which means more lives to protect and more congestion, the breeding ground of criminal activity.

In June, when Police Chief Roland Petfocchi filed his monthly report for the council's perusal, total personnel was listed as 25. When the next report was submitted, in September (due to press of other assignments which made it impossible to submit a report monthly the local office switched to quarterly reports), personnel listed was still 25.

This, despite the fact that the Chief of Police has asked intermittently over a period of three months for additional men and the police commission has recommended the hiring of additional personnel for more than a month.

There are a lot of ways to scrimp and save the citizens shillings, but ruinous cutting of finances for police protection should not be one of them.

A Good Omen for The North County

Tuesday this week may have marked a new era for the people of the north county.

Thomas Callan moved into a supervisorial position to represent this section of the county—long the "orphan" when it has come to any attention from the county seat.

Many believed the presence of Callan, long known as a man who speaks with candor, on the board would result in dissension within the ranks.

But Callan has already expressed his wish to go along with the board "100 per cent." And yet, if there is "dissension," it will be because Callan feels justly that this end of the county is not getting is just due. The southern representatives would label any such complaint of unfair treatment as "dissension." They prefer to have the north end keep its mouth shut and behave in a manner befitting its status.

But we believe Callan is going to do this district some good. If he can do it in harmony with the rest of the board, he will. If he can't get action by peaceful methods, he will at least let it be known that he is fighting for this district's betterment.

Among Callan's first projects are to secure an adequate park for recreation on this end of the county.

He also plans to probe the inequitable tax assessments lowered on property owners in this area.

To us, that seems good enough for a starter, and we strongly hope these, and future projects, will be greeted with the consideration due them by other members of the board.

A Dichtomy of Justice

If you're looking for opposite extremes on the two sides of the iron curtain you could hardly find a better example than in the system and the speed of justice. The 11 former top Communists of Czechoslovakia who were "tried" in Prague recently didn't have to wait long for the wheels of "justice" to turn. In fact, the wheels whirled and it was but a few days from the court-room to the courtyard where eight of them were hanged. Now, contrast this with the American brand of justice as it concerns the convicted atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. Their trial, like most in the American courts, was not brief. Finally, they were found guilt yof treason in March 1951, nearly two years ago, and sentenced to death. But that was not the end, but just the beginning of a further series of legal maneuvers to save them from the electric chair. Now, having been given every benefit of the doubt, every opportunity to challenge the court's verdict and almost two years to do it in, they will die this month unless reprieved by the White House. Our system is slow—exasperatingly slow at times—but the preservation of our form of government does not require us to trump up charges against anyone nor rush them to the executioner.

We Can't Get Over Nov. 4

That record-smashing turnout of 61½ million voters on Nov. 4, is most encouraging since it was nearly 12 million more than the highest previous total which was set in 1940. But, at that, it was only 63 per cent of the potential voting population. The final figures showed that although more than 62 million people went to the polls, the blank and voided ballots reduced the official total to 61,547,861. Of these, 33,927,549 went to Eisenhower and 27,311,316 to Stevenson. Minor parties could muster only 308,996. Thus the general got 6,175,952 more votes than were ever before cast for a presidential candidate (27,751,597 for Roosevelt in 1936) and his opponent almost equalled the previous high. As to the turnout of voters, California recorded an 86.85 percentage of those registered. This topped the previous high of 86.13 per cent. Eisenhower drew 2,897,310 of California's 5,209,692 votes with Stevenson getting 2,197,548. But it was Senator Knowland who took top honors with 3,982,448—the largest vote ever given a candidate in California for any office. Yes, November 4 was quite a day.

AROUND THE AREA

Escape Inferno

A Belmont woman and her small daughter escaped death on New Year's Day in a $15,000 blaze that swept around their home in the Cipriani area just west of the Alameda de las Puglas.

The blaze was visible for miles, and San Mareo firemen offered assistance to the Belmont department if needed.

By chance, the automobile believed responsible for the fire also sounded a life-saving alarm when its horn short-circuited and began blowing.

Mrs. Thelma Hammel, owner of the home, was aroused by the horn and crackling of the blaze in the garage attached to her home. She immediately ran to another bedroom where she grabbed up her sleeping 8-year-old daughter, Sherill Hammel. The child's bedroom was immediately next to the section of the house where the blaze started and gained headway.

Belmont Fire Chief Harry Chamberlain said the blaze appeared to have originated in a 1950 model station wagon parked in the garage and spread up the walls and into a bedroom over the garage which is used by Mrs. Hammel as a workroom in connection with her interior decorating business.

Mystery Marauder

A 44-year-old San Bruno transit worker drove off to work one morning last week just as he had done for the six previous years.

But that morning, for no apparent reason, an unidentified motorist began blazing away at him, hitting his vehicle with bullets three times.

Leonard L. Clark, 44, an employ at the San Mateo-Burlingame transit company, told police the attack by the driver occurred near Broadway in Burlingame at approximately 5:30 a.m.

"I was just moseying along on El Camino Real on my way to work," Clark said.

The victim explained that the mystery assailant began following him closely, once forcing his vehicle into the dirt at the side of the road.

As Clark slowed his car down later to ask him what the idea was, "All of a sudden" he heard a gun go off and "a slug hit the car with a thud." Before Clark could get far the assailant had fired two more shots.

Police reported they could find no trace of the gun-wielding motorist.

Twin Motel Stick-ups

Two armed bandits, posing as sheriff's deputies, held up two couples and escaped with nearly $500 in cash last week.

An army corporal and his wife were bound and gagged by the holdup men at the Alpine motel, 2644 Bayshore boulevard, Bayshore City, at about 5 a.m., one hour and 15 minutes after a similar robbery had taken place near San Jose.

The first robbery occurred at the Bayshore motel, four miles south of San Jose, at 3:45 a.m.

The two men are believed to be the same robbers who held up a couple in an Oakland motel December 24. The victims, as in last week's cases, were bound and the thugs left $5 of the stolen money when they left.

Meteor Flashes Over

A huge meteor lighted the midnight sky above the northern California coastal area early Saturday and plunged into the sea near Pedro point on the San Mateo county shoreline.

The fireball was seen by many persons and resulted in the sending of a coast guard patrol boat into action on the belief that there might be a ship in distress.

The sky-lighting meteor was seen by Deputy Sheriff Joseph Galeoto and reported to sheriff's office dispatcher Herschel Cayton at 12:15 a.m.

A Human Torch

Karl Lokeng, 44-year-old San Mateo carpenter, became a human torch last Sunday as gasoline fumes were ignited by a cigarette he was smoking.

He was reported rallying Monday, however, at Mills hospital after receiving terrible burns which covered his body from head to foot.

The force of the explosion shot a white-hot flame 70 feet into the air and shook homes in the vicinity of the Lokeng residence, 229 Eighth avenue.

Car Thief Found

The 16-year-old San Francisco boy, who authorities believed had leaned to death over a coastside cliff last Dec. 6, has been picked up by police in Medford, Ore.

The youth was caught by police there on a San Francisco warrant, charging him with auto theft. The boy will be returned to San Francisco.

The youth disappeared over the edge of the cliff as he was being pursued by sheriff's officers. The boy jumped out of a stolen car and ran towards the cliff. Officers said the youth had disappeared and it was feared that he had plunged to his death on the rocks below.

Sudden Collapse

The induction ceremonies of Municipal Judge Fred Wyckoff of the new Central district were marred Monday morning when veteran 82-year-old court reporter, Harry W. Spalding, collapsed in the courtroom.

Spalding slumped forward in his chair, the victim of a heart attack, as Wyckoff was presenting his acceptance speech.

He was reported in fair condition later that afternoon.

Dies In Fire

Mrs. Einer Harry, wife of a San Francisco post office employee, was burned to death in Redwood City Wednesday in a fire at her home.

Authorities said the death apparently occurred after she went to the telephone to report the flames, then returned to her bedroom in an apparent effort to beat the fire out.

According to Fire Chief Joseph Lodi she was overcome by the smoke and died there.

Running First

Taxpayers in the Burlingame elementary school district again have the "honor" of paying the highest annual cost per student among the ten major towns of the county.

A survey on operating cost of peninsula school districts has been issued from the office of James R. Tormey, county superintendent of schools.

Tormey's all-inclusive survey shows just which of the county districts are paying most for administrative costs and cost per student, and other details of school operation.

San Mateo has the highest assessed valuation, $47,092,768, according to the survey.

Thief's High Adventure

A trio of bandits pulled off successfully a daring lunch-hour holdup of a Bank of America branch in Redwood City Wednesday and escaped with $1600.

The bandit leader, masked, as were his accomplices, stepped up to the window of Marjorie West, teller, and shover a crudely printed card at her which read:

"I have a gun. Give me all the money. Two other guys with guns are with me."

Miss West passed the money to him and the three men fled.

Apparently a dozen or more customers in the place were not aware that a holdup was taking place.

IN THE PAST

TEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Thursday, Jan. 7.—Judge John J. Fahey Jr., newly elected justice of the peace for the first township, San Mateo county, began his term of office Monday, as local offices of the Justice court were moved to a new address.

Headquarters of the Justice court were moved from 4 Wellington avenue across the street to 3 Wellington avenue, law office of Judge Fahey. The former Justice office will continue to be occupied by Attorney Wade H. Clay, outgoing justice of the peace.

Daly City ushered in 1943 by spending one of the quietest New Year's Eves on police record Thursday night. Merrymaking hit a new low with restrictions on taverns for the duration, and the community was even without a traffic accident.

A fist fight on Mission street, a New Year's party that became a little noisy, and a garage break-in summoned Daly City police during the evening. Officers Henry Sundermann Jr., Walter Davis and Roland Petrocchi stopped the fight about 1 a.m. and a sailor was jailed for distrubing the peace as a result.

When flames from a gas cooking range got out of control early Sunday morning at Theatre Grill, 6233 Mission street, the restaurant and surrounding buildings were seriously menaced, but the Daly City fire department was on the scene five minutes after the call was received and had the fire out in one hour.

The fire assertedly started when grease near the range was ignited and spread along the cooking section at the front of the building. The fire spread to the north wall of the building, a nearby closet and a stairway leading to the second floor. Tenants were aroused from sleep by the noise and commotion.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Jan. 7—Mayor Paul Selmi of Daly City today was named a vice-chairman for the fourth annual President's Birthday ball to be held Jan. 29 at the Tanforan clubhouse.

The appointment was made by Postmaster Joseph V. Gaffey of Burlingame who, for the second consecutive year, was selected as general chairman for San Mateo county by Keith Morgan of New York, head of the committee for the celebration of the president's birthday.

When the Duke of Windsor brings his American-born duchess back to her native land, he will bring her to California.

Unless long and carefully guarded negotiations suddenly collapse, he will establish his American home in San Mateo county.

Agents of the former King of England, apparently authoritative reports said yesterday, have been seeking, for some time, to lease a suitable estate in this section of the state.

The Colma Creek flood control project, estimated to cost $55,000, has been approved by the state planning commission in Los Angeles, it was learned Monday of this week.

Check dams are to be constructed and an extensive program of tree planting is envisioned as part of the crop benefit work.

With the completion of the remodeling, the Daly City Recreation project will be installed in its office and headquarters on Wellington street, next door to the Daly City hall.

The Vista Grande park is now the scene of considerable activity, the council, through Mayor Paul Selma, having arranged for grading and leveling of the lower field, which will be devoted to football, soccer, baseball and softball.

The building which houses the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C., cost about $15,000,000.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Jan. 6—A group of young married couples of Colma and the vicinity had a most enjoyable New Year's Eve party at the Colma community center on Dunk street, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion. Dancing and games were enjoyed until a late hour, when a delicious supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Franzoia, of Price street, had several guests at dinner on New Years Day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Merlo and Miss Juanita Merlo of Mateo avenue, spent New Years Day at the home of Mrs. Marie Cheregino, in San Francisco.

The members of Company No. 3, Daly City volunteer fire department, entertained their wives at a dinner and dance given in their fire house on Westlake avenue on New Years Eve. These parties are held each year, and are eagerly looked forward to by all those who attend.

Reservists Respond Well to Air Force Interview Talks

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—San Francisco and San Mateo Air Reservists have responded so well to interview appointments that Fourth Air Force has decided to close the Reserve Inventory site one week early on January 15, it was announced today by Lt. Colonel Martin A. Fellhauer, project officer.

The Inventory site at Building 8, West Campus, City College of San Francisco, Ocean and Phelan avenues, was originally scheduled to remain open until January 24, but with more than 50 per cent of the survey accomplished during the first three weeks of operation, it will be possible to complete the project by January 15. The Inventory site at 570 15th street in Oakland for Alameda and Contra Costa counties will also close on that date.

Hundreds of Air Force Reservists who have completed their personal interviews have expressed their satisfaction to find the survey most helpful to ascertaining their status. Not only do they have their records brought thoroughly up to date but they learn of advantages in the new Reserve program without committing themselves to immediate recall. The average interview requires about an hour.

Any Air Reservists who have entered San Francisco and San Mateo counties from other parts of the state or country to become residents and have not received appointments may arrange for interviews by contacting the Inventory site.

Air Reservists in the Bay Area are urged to call or visit one of the two Inventory sites immediately if they do not have confirmed appointments. The telephone number for the San Francisco site is JUniper 4-3147. For the Oakland site it is TWinoaks 3-3330, extension 128.

Highway Patrol Engaged in Hunt For 700 Officers

The California Highway Patrol was still engaged in its biggest manhunt today as it pushed a statewide search for 700 men who will be eligible for future openings as traffic officers.

Basic requirements are that a man by 21 to 35 years of age, have a high school education or its equivalent and be in good health. The deadline for filing applications is Jan. 16 with a written examination slated for Feb. 14.

A list of eligible persons will be created after applicants complete the written examination, physical performance and medical tests and a personal interview.

Appointees will be given an intensive 12-week course at the Highway Patrol Academy at Sacramento where they will learn modern techniques of law enforcement and accident prevention.

Duties of a traffic officer include patrol of the highways, traffic law enforcement, assistance to motorists, accident investigation, traffic safety education, commercial vehicle inspection and first aid, disaster and emergency work. Present pay scale is $325 to $395 per month.

Applications and detailed information about the examination and the job may be obtained at any Department of Employment office or at the San Francisco, Los Angeles or Sacramento offices of the state personnel board.

New Phone Exchange Installed In Colma

A new telephone exchange, PLaza 6, has been installed in the Colma office to keep ahead of demand.

The new exchange, which provides 800 more telephones to augment the 1200 made available by installation of the PLaza 5 exchange, serves the Daly City, Colma and southern San Francisco areas.

According to Roy Buell, San Francisco division manager, the expansion move was made to keep ahead of the demand for new phones.

Buell said the exchange went into operation shortly before Christmas.

Buell said the new equipment cost the company $91,000 to install.

The number of telephones here increased by 10,000 during the past year, bringing the total to 461,000, according to Buell. San Franciscans are now placing about 2,168,500 calls each day, or about 4.7 calls per telephone.

RIDGELY CUMMINGS REPORTS: ...from HOLLYWOOD

TOO GOOD TO BE BAD

Once upon a time there was a young man in Hollywood whose father died broke and notorious. The young man, to be referred to hereafter as Kirk Douglas, spent the last of his money staging a big funeral for the dead producer.

Mr. Sullivan insults the memory of Mr. Douglas' father and thus the two young men become firm friends.

Great Things

The two young men go to work as extras but they dream of great things. Mr. Donglas wants to be a producer. Mr. Sullivan wants to be a director.

Using the treasured possessions of their friends, the two young men raise enough money from trusting pawn-brokers to finance Mr. Douglas to a poker game. Opponent in this game is a producer of "B" pictures to be known henceforward as Walter Pidgeon.

Mr. Douglas loses six thousand dollars to Mr. Pidgeon. He offers to work it out as an associate producer in charge of a "B" unit.

Mr. Pidgeon agrees and thus Mr. Douglas becomes a minor producer, which is nice work if you can get it. Mr. Sullivan becomes Mr. Douglas' assistant, a writer and director.

On the High Road

The two do great work and make a name for themselves. Before you can say Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer they are on the high road to fame and fortune.

Meanwhile Mr. Douglas meets the drunken daughter of a deceased matinee idol. The drunken daughter will be known hereinafter as the party of the second part or Lana Turner.

Mr. Douglas cures Miss Turner of the D.T.'s and makes a star out of her. Then he disappoints her at a crucial point in her career. With regret but definitely.

He fixes Mr. Sullivan up in a happy marriage and helps him to achieve his ambition to become a director. Then he takes an important stride toward topnotch success himself by stepping resolutely on Mr. Sullivan's fingers. With regret but firmly.

He picks up a college professor-writer to be known in this space as Dick Powell and helps him to write his first screen play and later to win a Pulitzer Prize. He also arranges, unintentionally but irrevocably, for Mr. Powell to lose his beloved and lovely, albiet scatter-brained, wife, one Gloria Grahame.

Buys a Flop

With these misdeeds behind him, Mr. Douglas sinks all his money in a flop and goes broke. He hies himself to Paris, a pleasant solution for someone fresh out of dough and job-hunting and I must try it myself sometime.

In Parris he gets a great idea for a picture and phones Mr. Sullivan to ask him to be his director. Mr. Sullivan says nope.

He puts in a trans-Atlantic call to Miss Turner to ask her to be his star. Miss Turner says nope.

He phones Mr. Powell to ask him to be his writer. Mr. Powell says nope.

Pidgeon Comes Through

Then he phones his old poker-playing friend, Mr. Pidgeon. Mr. Pidgeon gets Lana, Barry and Richard together for old times sake and puts in a phone call for Mr. Douglas.

What happens while we wait for Mr. Douglas to get on the phone and his three proteges to make up their minds about helping him out is "The Bad and the Beautiful."

"Bad and Beautiful" is currently billed as "The boldest drama of the year" and "The story they thought too daring to tell." I've just told it and I've never won any prizes for daring. Nor did my typewriter sizzle as I tapped it out.

It's Not Bad

Although the publicity that accompanies this picture is hokum, it is not a bad picture. In fact it is definitely on the superior side and is M-G-M's entry in the Academy Award sweepstakes.

Each year the major studios hold back one of their best films until nearly year's end, then release it during the Christmas holiday season, just in time to qualify for the Oscar awards.

The theory behind this is that films released early in the year, regardless of how entertaining or powerful, have dissipated their appeal during the months intervening between release and voting time by members of the Motion Picture Academy.

I've never placed much stock in this theory and wouldn't be at all surprised to see Columbia's "High Noon" and M-G-M's "Singing In the Rain," both of which came out months ago, right up in top contention.

Also Pitching

Nevertheless Paramount is in there pitching with "Come Back Little Sheba," which all my friends tell me has cinched best actress award for Shirley Booth. 20th Century-Fox has Bette Davis in "The Star," Warner Bros. saved "The Jazz Singer" for New Year's Eve; and "Moulin Rouge," "Hans Christian Anderson," "Member of the Wedding" and several others are also in the late running, not to overlook "The Bad and the Beautiful."

I can't buy "Bad and Beautiful" as shocking, bold or daring. Nor do I see it as an expose of Hollywood. To me it is just another fairy tale of the Beverly Hills woods.

Redeeming Features

What redeems it is the terrific acting of Kirk Douglas, Dick Powell, Gloria Grahame, Gilbert Roland and a couple of bit players whose names I didn't get, the publicity man and the agent.

The dialogue, by Charles Schnee and George Bradshaw, is adult and amusing. Vincente Minnelli's direction is sensitive and there are dozens of nice touches in settings, music (by David Raksin whose brother is a buddy of mine), lights and interpretation which must be credited to Producer John Houseman.

"Bad and Beautiful" is too good to be bad but as a faithful and honest portrayal of Hollywood it is just another romantic pipe dream.

During his term as president, Rutherford B. Hayes vetoed a total of 12 bills.

STATE MAY ACQUIRE FINE ARTS PALACE

The State may acquire the Palace of Fine Arts as a part of the State Park System, if a bill to be presented to the Legislature by Assemblyman Caspar W. Weinberger is enacted into law.

Weinberger said his bill has already been drafted and provides for an appropriation from the State Park fund. This would permit use of the structure for recreational purposes and as a permanent exhibit hall for California's 58 counties.

The famous landmark in the Marina is the sole remaining structure built for the 1915 Panama Pacific International Exposition and has been the subject of bitter controversy for many months.

Proposals to repair and maintain the entire structure are considered too costly. Most recent proposal, submitted by the Northern California executive committee of the American Institute of Architects to the Board of Supervisors, would rebuild the main hall at a cost of $1 million. Destruction of the ornate colonnade and rotunda would cost about $50,000, it is estimated.

Edith Piaf To Appear At Curran Until January 15

Edith Piaf, whom critics in New York, London and Paris, have nothing but the highest praise is at the Curran until January 15. The engagement opens on Friday night, January 9, with matinees on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday. This is all too short a run of one of the World's finest entertainers but previous bookings do not allow for a longer stay in San Francisco. This, by the way, is Miss Piaf's first San Francisco engagement.

During the performance Miss Piaf sings new and old song hits, supporting her is a company of top headliners drawn from the variety stage. One is the celebrated French entertainer Jacques Peals. Jean Sheldon has starred in Broadway hits with his banjo and comedy pantomine. Landre and Verna are whirlwind ballroom dancers. They are joining the show direct from New York's Copacabana. De Mattiazzi and his dancing dolls are internationally famed, while Tom and Jerry supply comedy, muscle and thrills.

This engagement of Miss Piaf and her entertainers marks the inclusion of San Francisco along with Paris, New York and London as one of the few world capitols where Miss Piaf has appeared.

"Paris '90" Opens At Geary Theatre Monday, Jan. 12

Cornelia Otis Skinner appears at the Geary Theatre next Monday evening (Jan. 12) for a fortnight in her most ambitious solo offering, "Paris '90," on which two years of preparation and research have been spent.

In her new revue, which has fourteen scenes by Donald Oenslager and an accompanying musical score by Kay Swift, Miss Skinner portrays 14 contrasting women from the era immortalized in the paintings and lithographs of Henri Toulouse-Lautrec. Alden S. Blodget is producer and director of "Paris '90," and the elaborate costuming is by Helen Pons. It comes here following a triumphant New York season at the Booth Theatre.

For the first time in her long stage career Miss Skinner will sing some of the show's special musical numbers. The orchestra is under the direction of Nathaniel Shilbret, veteran composer and conductor.

The action of "Paris '90" begins on the Champs Elysees, shifts to the Left Bank, and finally moves to Montmartre, as Miss Skinner utilizes her famed protean skill to introduce one after another of the women whose paths crossed in serious or comic episodes during the close of the past century.

A nursemaid, or "nou-nou," a woman of fashion, a Proustian duchess, a ribald Spanish dancer and an "emancipated" British woman comprise the figures seen along the Champs Elysees. An angel on Notre Dame, a laundress, a visiting Boston school teacher, a bunco artist, and the wife of a refugee professor are the principals in the scenes on the Left Bank. In the closing act, four friends of Toulouse-Lautrec make their appearances — La Goulue ("The Glutton"), bawdy queen of the Moulin Rouge; a lion tamer of the Medrano Circus; Berthe La Sourde (Deaf Bertha"), inmate of a "house of tolerance," and Yvette Guilbert, France's greatest concert-cafe idol.

The usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given at the Geary.

SLOW DOWN AT CORNERS

Almost everyone has had the experience of walking hurriedly past or around the corner of a building and bumping into another person. Such pedestrian collisions are generally passed off with apologies. But when the motorist in a hurry drives fast past or around a blind corner, the California State Automobile Association points out the result is often a serious collision that apologies can't rectify.

ONCE-BEATEN GATORS MEET RUGGED CHICO TEAM TODAY AND TOMORROW

San Francisco State's basketball team, beaten only once in nine starts, gets a rugged test this Friday and Saturday against Chico State. The two teams clash in San Francisco's new gymnasium on the Lake Merced campus, starting at 8:30 p.m. Friday and at 8:15 on Saturday.

Chico State is San Francisco's traditional rival, dating back to the days when both were members of the Far Western Conference. This competition is intensified in basketball season. Dan Farmer, State's veteran coach, was a four year letterman in three sports at Chico. Gene Maxey, the Chico cage coach, was a freshman when Farmer was finishing his college career.

Maderos High Scorer

Chico tied for the Far Western crown last year as freshman George Maderos topped all scorers with an 18.1 average. Maderos, who holds the school single game record at 37 points and the seasonal mark of 496, broke loose for 36 points in a recent game.

The Wildcats have defeated College of Pacific this year and took California Poly's unbeaten crew to two overtimes.

San Francisco has featured balanced scoring while chalking up eight wins. The only loss was to San Jose on the Spartan's home court.

Miller Has 101

Charles Miller, former St. Mary's player, has scored 101 points in nine games, while State veteran Al Desin is right behind with 96. Farmer has substituted freely, since the fast-breaking Gators have rolled over most opposition easily. The Gators now play an independent schedule.

Desin will open at center against Chico. Miller and Gene Busby, who has 75 points, go at forwards, while Vic Gibson, 79 points, and Jim Green, 52, start at guards.

State scoring leaders (nine games):

	fg	ft	tp
Charles Miller	47	7	101
Al Desin	40	16	96
Vic Gipson	29	21	79
Gene Busby	34	7	75

Yo-Yo Competition for Kids To Be Held in D. C. Jan. 17 and 24

WARMING UP for the yo-yo contest to be held here Jan. 17 and 24 is Joseph Stagnaro, 12. The event, sponsored by the recreation department, under supervision of James Mason, director, will be held at Marchbanks and Lincoln parks. Winner of the city-wide competition will go to the district contest. District winners will meet later for the state championship.

Local Kids Will Vie In Yo-Yo Competition

If you're under 16 years old and can execute a neat "spinner," "breakaway" or "walk the dog" you might emerge champion in a local contest to be held Jan. 17 and 24.

The event is the Daly City recreation department's annual yo-yo contest.

The competition, part of a statewide activity, will be held at Marchbanks and Lincoln parks be beginning at 10 a.m.

Winners at the separate parks will be awarded prizes and will compete for the honor of city champion, who will also receive another prize.

Champions representing the various cities will meet in a later district contest, and district winners will go then to the state finals.

The state champion will receive a $1000 cash scholarship award. Runner-up will receive $500 cash scholarship and all other state final contestants will be awarded a $90 Schwinn bike.

In yo-yo competition, each contestant is given two chances on each trick, scoring ten points for completion on the first try, five on the second, and nothing if he misses on both tries.

Eighty points constitutes a perfect score.

James Mason, recreation director who is heading the contest, said between 50 and 100 competitors are expected to turn out.

BOARD VOTES TO KEEP PAL GRID PLAY SAME FOR '53

The PAL board of managers met Monday night and agreed to continue conference-type play for football in 1953, according to Stanford Hannah, superintendent of the Jefferson union high school district, and member of the board.

Earlier in the week the statement was made that three high schools, Sequoia, Menlo-Atherton and Palo Alto, might withdraw from the league if the board approved a north-south division sked for the '53 grid season.

Hannah said, however, that the statement for Sequoia high was not official, since it was not made by the principal of the school. Sequoia's principal indicated at the Monday night meeting that he would abide by any schedule which the board approved.

Hannah said that at present the conference type play is the only solution. He added that the league is too small for a division, yet a little too large for one circuit.

Some of the principals have also expressed a desire to return to conference play in basketball, rather than operate on the north-south divided-league plan which has been in operation, Hannah said.

The board will meet again on Jan. 19 to discuss further problems.

Crocker PTA Members To See Movie Tuesday

The Crocker PTA meeting will be held in the Crocker school library Tuesday evening, Jan. 13, at 8 p.m.

A movie will be shown, entitled "Preface To Life." John Mongan, vice principal of Jefferson Union high school, will be the commentator. The picture is a sequel to "Human Beginnings" and is for adult education.

SILVESTRI COMPETES IN CROSBY TOURNEY

Bob Silvestri of Daly City, 1952 state amateur golf champ, will be among the 100 top-flight amateur golfers, motion picture, radio and sports celebrities competing in the $10,000 Bing Crosby national pro-amateur golf championship beginning today at Pebble Beach.

Competition in the 72-hole medal play tourney begins today and will continue through tomorrow and Sunday at the famed Monterey Peninsula course.

This marks the first time that Silvestri will play in the tourney, which is on a strict invitational basis.

He and his wife, Beverly, who live here at 14 Lake Forest drive, left for the southern peninsula Wednesday night. Silvestri planned to attend a golf clinic given yesterday by the professionals.

One amateur and one professional are paired for the tourney play. Silvestri had not been notified at press time of his partner for the tournament.

Among the many luminaries who will be trodding the fairways in the gala tourney will be Bing and Bob Crosby, Max Baer, Leo Durocher, Phil Harris, John Hodiak, Bob Hope, Bob Lemon, Gordon McRae, Lefty O'Doul, Dennis O'Keefe, Buddy Rogers, Hank Sauer, Randolph Scott and Johnny Weismuller.

REC PLAY TO RESUME HERE WITH 4 GAMES

The recreation department basketball leagues will resume play tomorrow at Marchbanks playground with four games on tap.

Play gets underway after the two-week holiday lay-off.

In the event of rain the game will be postponed until the following Saturday.

Scheduled to play tomorrow are: Colma Browns vs. OLPH Blues, in the A league. The Browns have one victory against no losses, while the Blues have suffered one defeat, won none; In the B league the Colma Panthers, with one defeat, no wins, face the OLPH Rams, who have a two-win record. The Colma Wildcats, who have two-straight losses, meet the Colma Mustangs, who have yet to play a game. The Colma Eagles, also without a game, will vie with a team yet to be decided.

NEW METEORITE

Two University of California scientists have identified a new meteorite—the first to be found in Los Angeles County. The 30-pound visitor from outer space now resides at the University's Santa Barbara College.

THE OUTDOORS

Big Buck Bag

SAN FRANCISCO — California deer hunters bagged a total of 50,667 bucks in 1952—the third highest record in State history—the Department of Fish and Game reveals.

The final annual figure is based on the return of validated deer tags by successful hunters. It falls about 21 per cent short of California's all-time record kill of 64,619 bucks, scored in 1951.

Mendocino county, with a reported harvest of 4,252 deer, led the tally by counties for the first time in three years. Hunters in Siskiyou county bagged 2,187 bucks and Lake county reported a take of 2,056 animals.

Bow and arrow hunters, afield during special 10-day hunting seasons preceding the regular firearms seasons, racked up a kill of 37 bucks in 19 counties. Los Angeles county accounted for eight of the total archery take.

In announcing the annual harvest, the Department's game conservation branch asserted that California hunters could take an even greater proportion of the state's million-plus deer. A proposal to allow two days of hunting deer of either sex in selected coastal areas is now before the Fish and Game Commission.

"Where other western states aim to harvest 20 to 30 per cent of their deer each year," the report states, "Californians have been bagging only 5 to 7 per cent annually. This results in a waste of surplus animals."

The annual California deer kill since the end of World War II: 1946, 47,419; 1947, 47,178; 1948, 47,789; 1949, 52,082; 1950, 47,128; 1951, 64,619; 1952, 50,667. All figures indicate the legal, reported kill of bucks only, and do not include recent special antlerless hunting season results.

Party Boat Patrons

TERMINAL ISLAND — California's party boat patrons landed a total of 156,000 marine fish during October for an average bag of six-and-a-half fish apiece the State Department of Fish and Game statistical unit reports.

A total of 208 party boat skippers were hosts to 24,274 anglers during the month, less than half the number who went party boat fishing in September on 313 boats.

Rockfish as usual led the catch in volume, with 78,000 landed. Thirteen thousand albacore were taken in southern California waters and 9,000 salmon were landed between San Francisco and Crescent City.

Cachuma Reservoir

SANTA BARBARA — Santa Barbara county's new Cachuma Reservoir will be stocked with trout, it has been decided by the California Department of Fish and Game.

The decision favoring trout plantings reflects majority desires among county sportsmen and conservationists. It is the outcome of a recent meeting called by the department to determine whether trout or warmwater game fish should be stocked in the new impoundment of the Santa Ynez river drainage.

45% Successful

Deer hunters in states where the shooting of either sex is permitted are 45 per cent successful and harvest 26 per cent of the herd each year, it was determined in a survey conducted by the Whitman County Sportsmen's Association of Washington. In states where only bucks may be hunted, an average of 11 per cent of the herd is taken and only 23 per cent of the hunters are successful.

CAR FOR EVERY FAMILY?

Nearly every American family now has a car, according to a report by the University of California's Institute of Traffic and Transportation Engineering. Statistically, this works out to about one passenger car per 3.8 persons in the United States.

Bank of America Resources Pass $8 Billion Mark!

New Records Set in Deposits, Loans and Capital Funds

Its statement of condition as of the end of 1952, just released, shows Bank of America has exceeded $8 billion in total resources, and has attained new records in deposits, loans and capital funds.

Total resources for the bank stood at $8,201,689,368, which is a gain of $670,392,441 during the year. Adding the subsidiary Bank of America-New York (International), the grand total of resources is $8,300,231,823, which is $682,971,719 higher than a year ago.

DEPOSITS INCREASE

Bank of America deposits as of December 31, 1952, totaled $7,485,116,183, a 12 months gain of $669,249,388.

Loans outstanding at the year end totalled $4,069,150,471, an increase of $436,465,122 over the previous year end.

Investments in securities aggregated $2,413,852,775, which is $25,657,869 lower than last year.

CAPITAL FUNDS UP

Total capital funds of the bank rose to $424,302,145, of which $11,916,287 was added from retained 1952 earnings. In addition to these capital funds, $51,423,848 was held in reserve for possible loan losses. Total increase for the year in this reserve and capital funds was $16,731,752.

Net operating earnings before provision for Federal income taxes were $103,316,287, as compared with $96,794,581 for 1951. After provision for these taxes and transfer of $10,000,000 to the reserve for possible loan losses, net profit remaining was $50,316,287, equivalent to $2.10 per share on the 24,000,000 shares outstanding. This compares with $50,874,581, or $2.12 per share for 1951.

President Carl F. Wente observed that Federal income taxes were equal to $1.79 per share, or 29 cents per share greater than in 1951. He stated that while high tax rates and increased operating costs had nullified the year's gains in gross earnings, he hoped that tax relief in 1953 would allow improvement to be shown next year.

Daly City-Colma Lions Make Preparations For Annual Mid-Winter Convention in S.F.

As mecca is to moslem pilgrims, so is the mid-winter convention to Lions of the western area.

Daly City-Colma Lions have plans well underway for their part in the convention which runs through Jan. 15, 16, 17 and 18 in a San Francisco setting.

The event will be opened with an address by San Francisco's Mayor Elmer E. Robinson, and will be climaxed with an Aloha breakfast on Sunday morning at the Cliff House.

Prior to the opening of the convention proper local Lions and those who are in San Francisco will have the opportunity of attending a luncheon meeting of the world famous Saints and Sinners, in honor of the two top Lions, International President Ed Albert and Director-General Roy Keaton.

On Thursday evening, a series of informal parties are being planned. These parties will be guided tours and will feature the inviting menus and entertainment.

The Daly City-Colma Lions and their wives are throwing an open house at the Palace hotel on Friday, Jan. 16.

Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres will be served visiting Lions from 7:30 on.

Lion Joe Belli, Arnold Panella and Ira Veville are handling the arrangements. Lions ladies Gloria Belli, Marian O'Shaugnessy, and Marjorie Rector will serve and introduce the guests.

Friday business sessions, golf and bowling tournament and Lions follies will be held.

Scheduled for Saturday are a fashion brunch and a banquet and ball.

Local Police Attend Narcotics Course

Members of the Daly City police force are among the nearly one hundred officers from San Mateo county cities attending the three-day narcotics course which began in South San Francisco Wednesday.

Sponsored by the South San Francisco police department, the course is one of the first of its kind of such a scale, according to South San Francisco Police Chief Louis Belloni.

A. Lincoln "Red" Lamport, inspector in the bureau of investigation in the district attorney's office, is the instructor.

Entitled the "Investigation, Search and Seizure of Narcotics," the course covers the handling of marijuana, heroin and opium.

The course is given in two groups because of the large turnout. Belloni said.

An estimated 45 men have attended each class, he added.

Belloni said his department sponsored the course because he felt "there is a need for more thorough training in this highly specialized field."

District Attorney Louis B. Dematteis praised Belloni and the South San Francisco department for taking the lead in combatting the growing narcotics problem.

Lamport is well known throughout the state for his work in the narcotics field. He has been active in this field for many years.

LOCAL DRIVERS WERE ON GOOD BEHAVIOR

The long, wet New Year's weekend ended in Daly City on a sober note.

Local police reported only minor damage to fenders, one arrest for drunk driving, and miscellaneous arrests upon those celebrating the arrival of 1953 a bit too exuberantly.

Not one serious traffic injury was reported over the weekend and Police Chief Roland Petrocchi has announced that Daly City completed the year without a single traffic fatality.

PORTABLE RADIO IS STOLEN FROM HOME

A portable radio valued at $30 was taken from the home of John R. Hill, 163 E. Vista, on New Year's Day between the hours of 7 and 10 p.m., according to local police.

Hill notified police at an early hour Friday morning that someone had broken into his home.

Oificer Les Bestedo, who investigated the burglary, reported that the thief had gained entry by placing a chair in the back yard underneath the unlocked kitchen window and climbing through.

Police have found no suspects to date.

American Legion Auxiliary Activities To Cover Wide Field of Service in New Year

Activities of the American Legion Auxiliary for 1953 will cover a wide field of patriotic service, according to the calendar of activities announced by Mrs. Erma Magnuson, president of the Daly City Unit of the Auxiliary of the American Legion.

Each month a different activity will be emphasized by the organization throughout the nation, although all of the activities will be carried on throughout the year, Mrs. Magnuson explained. Individual members will be able to devote their attention to the activities of most interest to them.

Activities to be emphasized during the different months of 1953 will be:

January: Legislation and National Security. Auxiliary members will study bills before Congress effecting war veterans and their families, and measures relating to national defense.

February: Americanism. Concentrated attention will be given to good citizenship and to the combatting of Communism.

March: Community Service. Planning and launching projects for the benefit of the communities in which they are located will occupy the Auxiliary's 14,000 local Units.

April: Child Welfare and Pan-American Study. Special attention will be given to the Auxiliary's year-around work for needy children of veterans, and to its program for the study of Latin-American countires.

May: Memorial Poppies. Distribution of memorial poppies to be worn in honor of the war dead and to raise funds for disabled veterans and children of veterans.

June: Juniors. Activities of the Auxiliary's members under the age of eighteen will be featured in this month.

July: Girl States. Interest will center in the holding of Girls States, sponsored annually by the Auxiliary in every state to give selected high school girls training in democratic leadership.

August: Conventions. May state conventions and the national convention will be held during August.

September: Music. Musical activities, which include choral, trio and quartette singing, will receive special attention.

October: Education of Orphans of Veterans. Bringing children of deceased veterans into contact with the educational aids available to them will be the special work of this month.

November: Membership. Re-enrollment of the Auxiliary's membership for 1954 will be the emphasized activity.

December: Rehabilitation. The Auxiliary's year-long efforts to aid disabled war veterans will come to a climax with Christmas activities for the disabled and their families.

The eight major coffee trade organizations in the United States have almost 1000 regular and associate members.

Charles Johnson Aboard Oriskany

Charles H. Johnson, aviation ordnanceman airman, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Johnson of 286 Los Banos ave., Daly City, Calif., is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Oriskany with Attack Squadron 923.

The "Skyraider" attack bombers of VA-923 are pounding Communist troops, supply concentrations and other targets in the combat zone. When not on missions of this type, they lend a helping hand to the Army and Marine ground troops by bombing and strafing the enemy's front line positions.

Recently, three Panther jets of the Oriskany shot down two MIGs and damaged two others only 35 miles distant from the Task Force. The destroyed MIGs were the fourth and fifth credited to Naval and Marine pilots since the outbreak of the Korean conflict.
